

D. Physical Properties

Technical Bulletin D-3

Burn Characteristics of VERSATEX

The oxygen index of VERSATEX is 35%. An oxygen index in excess of 26% denotes a material that is self extinguishing which means a fire will not continue to burn once the flame source is removed. By comparison, wood, composites and other plastic building materials carry an index below 26%.

VERSATEX is a self extinguishing material that will not burn once an active flame source has been removed.